

5 REASONS I SHOULD I CRATE TRAIN MY GOLDENDOODLE?

SAFE PLACE: Crate training takes advantage of your goldendoodles natural instincts and provides a quiet place for your dog to rest.

PROTECTS YOUR HOME: It keeps your Goldendoodle from being destructive when teething and possibly just bored.

POTTY TRAINING: It helps with potty training. (Puppies don't want to go in their home as long as they were in a clean environment their first 8 weeks of life. Make sure you are diligent in checking your puppies living environment prior to purchasing. Puppy mill puppies can be harder to potty train.)

EASIER GROOMER VISITS: Your Goldendoodle will most likely be crated when it goes to the groomer. It is important to establish good habits and making sure your dog is comfortable with a crate is a great start.

EASIER VET STAYS: Your dog at some point in its life might have to stay at the vet. Understanding how to relax in a crate will certainly make its stay better.

GOLDENDOODLELOU is always willing to help with crate training and is always available to discuss the transition when taking your puppy home.
